NICEIC is the UK's certification body for the electrical contracting industry. We have been assessing the electrical competence of electrical contractors for over 60 years.

With over 28,000 contractors, they are responsible for around 74% of all domestic work carried out in the UK which is nearly 1 million notifiable jobs each year.

SAFETY AND COMPETENCE

Contractors registered by us are assessed in person on a regular basis to ensure they are competent and capable of meeting the relevant technical and safety standards, and rules of the Scheme they are registered to.

WHAT HAPPENS IF SOMETHING GOES WRONG?

We all know how important it is for you to feel confident that the work undertaken by NICEIC registered contractors meets the required building regulations and/or installation standards. If you believe there are any issues, please raise your concerns in the first instance with the registered contractor who carried out the work and we are sure they will do everything possible to resolve them.

If you are unable to resolve these issues directly then please contact us on 01582 539036 and we will explain how we can help you.

OUR PLATINUM PROMISE

In the unlikely event that a contractor has ceased trading the Platinum Promise is our warranty, which enables us to rectify non-compliant work at no extra cost to you up to a maximum of £25,000 for any one rectification.

The Platinum Promise can be used if:

- The contractor was registered with NICEIC for the type of work undertaken at the time the installation was completed.

YOUR BUILDING REGULATIONS COMPLIANCE CERTIFICATE

This certificate provides a declaration that your new installation, alteration, or addition complies with the Building Regulations and is safe to use at the time it was put into service.
